Dr. Miles is a child and adolescent psychiatrist and psychoanalyst in Washington, D.C. Dr. Reginald S. Lourie was her mentor. Dr. Miles is a nationally known speaker, writer and consultant on child and adolescent development. She was a three-time speaker at the highly regarded Mahler Symposium on child development in Philadelphia and her published articles are regarded as valuable teaching tools in Child Psychiatric training programs at many medical schools. She has recently been designated as a Distinguished Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association.

Ms. Polson joined the Lourie Center in the mid-1990s as the clinical social worker for the Therapeutic Nursery Program (TNP). As the TNP’s director, she developed the program into a model early childhood mental health prevention and treatment pre-school. From 2005 to 2009, she served as Executive Director of the Lourie Center. She is now working with children and families in private practice, teaching graduate students in social work, and completing her Ph.D. in clinical social work at Smith College.

Congressman Chris Van Hollen, Jr.

Congressman Chris Van Hollen, Jr., (D-MD) is a champion for children and families in Maryland and across the nation through his House leadership role. In the 1990s, the Congressman served on the Board of Directors of the Reginald S. Lourie Center, and he has continued to be a tireless friend of the Center and the children and families we serve.

About the Lourie Center

The Reginald S. Lourie Center for Infants and Young Children is a nonprofit agency dedicated to the mission of understanding and strengthening the social and emotional health of parent-child relationships within our community through early prevention, intervention, education, research and training. The Center was founded in 1983 by the late Dr. Reginald S. Lourie, a world-wide leader in the fields of pediatric child psychiatry and infant mental health, and his colleagues, including Dr. T. Berry Brazelton and Dr. Stanley Greenspan, as an outgrowth of their six-year clinical research project funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. In July 2006, the Center affiliated with Adventist HealthCare, Inc. The Lourie Center now reaches more than 4,000 young children and their families and caregivers in the Washington, D.C. area.
